

“Africa Light / Gray Zone” at Ischia Film Festival 2010

An insider's tip for the summer 2010: about George Clooney, Michael Douglas, Hilary Swank, Anton Corbijn, Sir Ken Adam & Co.

Tino Schwanemann's short film "Africa Light / Gray Zone" (official website: www.africa-light.com) has its Italian Premiere at The Ischia Film Festival, which will take place together with The Ischia Global Fest. The exclusive Mediterranean location is just one of festival's benefits. The honorary committee consists of internationally renown, Oscar winning artists such as Sir Ken Adam (multi-awarded architect and star designer of various James Bond movies, e.g. "Goldfinger" and Stanley Kubrick's "Barry Lyndon", "Doctor Strangelove" etc.), Carlo Rambaldi ("Alien", "E.T.", "King Kong", David Lynch's "Dune", ...), Giuliano Montaldo, Osvaldo Desideri and many great artists more.

During the Ischia Global Fest the Who is Who of International Cinema will show up: Ben Kingsley, Jeremy Irons, Hilary Swank etc. Just to mention some of them. The festival's opening movie will be "Wall Street: Money Never Sleeps". Maybe Michael Douglas and Catherine Zeta-Jones will also be there? One for sure: The Ischia Film Festival is going to be an awesome event of this summer and is supposed to be a real insider's tip, not only for the fans of "Africa Light / Gray Zone"!

Anton Corbijn's "The American" (starring George Clooney) will be awarded at the Ischia Film Festival 2010. For sure, the director and his main actor will appear at the festival as well. Tino Schwanemann, always being a huge fan of Anton Corbijn's awesome work (e.g. "Control" and various amazing music videos of Depeche Mode, Herbert Groenemeyer, U2, Coldplay, Nirvana etc.), is really curious about Corbijn's opinion on "Africa Light - Gray Zone". As one of eight selected films "Africa Light / Gray Zone" is the only German film in its festival category.
